Alpine Hospice Opening Soon to Serve Southwest Colorado

Harden Healthcare's Hospice Division Expands Services in Colorado

AUSTIN, TX—Harden Healthcare announced today that Alpine Hospice will officially open and begin accepting patients in late July. Alpine Hospice is located at 691 CR 233 #A4, in Durango, CO. It will serve Archuleta, La Plata and Montezuma counties, including the towns of Durango, Pagosa Springs, Cortez, Silverton, Bayfield, Mancos and Ignacio.

In addition to providing hospice care, Alpine Hospice will focus its efforts on community outreach and education about hospice. The support and services offered by hospice providers are often not fully understood. Several prominent studies have found that patients in a hospice setting not only have a better quality of life but also may live longer.

Harden Healthcare is a Texas-based company that provides a continuum of healthcare services, primarily for seniors, and has operations in 14 states. The company's Hospice Division is one of the largest hospice providers in the Central U.S., serving six states. Harden also serves the Front Range area of Colorado through its subsidiary company, Colorado Hospice.

“We are proud to open Alpine Hospice and offer this essential healthcare service to Coloradoans in the Southwest region for the first time,” Jay Koeper, president of Harden Healthcare’s Hospice Division, said. “We believe it is important to educate the community about the need for hospice care and what it truly entails, and this will be one of our main efforts.”

Alpine Hospice currently has 10 employees and plans to grow to meet the need for hospice care in the service area.

Alpine Hospice provides physical, emotional and spiritual care for the terminally ill and ongoing support for their loved ones. The company’s mission is to provide an unparalleled level of care and support to individuals, families and loved ones as they face the realities of life-limiting illness.
